Grace for Today

JANUARY 2021 • VOLUME 20, NO. 1

STARS.....by Pastor Amanda Bergstrom

Over the past few years at Grace, we have shared 'star words' at Epiphany by receiving a word printed on a paper star to prompt one's prayers, discernment, and reflection in the year ahead.

This year, perhaps you will find a word to center your prayers and reflection, a starting point for conversations with God. Here is an online option for a word of the year generator that a colleague found online, <http://wordoftheyear.me/>. Or if you'd like a paper star, please send me an email or call the office and leave a message- I'd be glad to randomly choose one to send to you for Epiphany, January 6 and for the year ahead!

Considering how many new words we have had to learn in the past year, a word randomly selected in January 2020 seems so far away right now. Even Oxford Languages this year opted to report "Words of an Unprecedented Year" instead of a singular "word of the year," noting words such as stay-at-home, doomscrolling, systemic racism, reopening and self-quarantine.

And here we are, exhausted perhaps by the past year, weary of new words and changes, ever so ready for a new year to begin. What will January bring? And then, what Lenten journey and promise of spring awaits? What are the words we will use in the new year ahead, what good news will God speak into our lives and relationships and communities?

As we keep trying to wrap our minds around the language of this time and keep adapting to changing seasons and pandemic precautions, I wonder if we might adopt the posture of one who looks to the stars. There is a vulnerable openness to venturing into a dark night to look up into the sky, perhaps your neck strains a bit as your shoulders open, maybe you feel exposed to the elements, perhaps you experience awe and wonder. Maybe you feel lost or incredibly connected to the grand scheme of creation. And perhaps, as we gaze through what may seem endless and dim, we might keep our focus on the light.

As stars in the sky illuminate the night, we recall the wonder of Jesus' birth and the continued guidance we find in the light of Christ. Let's keep our sight and hopes set on Christ this year. As the bright and enduring light of Christ continues to shine, I look forward to seeing what words we'll find along the way to share God's grace in 2021.

Merry Christmas & blessings on the new year ahead.

JANUARY IS EPIPHANY TIME!.....by Pastor John Cunningham

Ready for a revelation? A new year has just begun, and before the week is done is the feast day of the Epiphany (January 6). The Bible text is Matthew's story of the magi ("wise men"), who recognize the significance of Jesus and travel far to honor him with their gifts.

The Epiphany season that continues into February celebrates ways Jesus is revealed to be the Savior, God with us. Over and over, people are astonished by what happens wherever Jesus is.

When he is baptized by John the Baptizer a dove descends and a voice from heaven announces: "this is my beloved Son with whom I am well pleased".

Jesus calls disciples, bringing together a diverse community who will spread the good news of who he is and carry on his work.

Jesus announces the good news that God's kingdom has come near. People are amazed: he speaks with God's authoritative power! He does miracles, healing and ridding people of the demons that are hurting them. He even forgives sins!

The Epiphany season ends with a high point: Jesus on the mountain, transfigured and revealed to be divine.

These epiphanies lead us to consider what it means for us to be Christians, called by his name. A tradition is to celebrate the worldwide meanings of discipleship, since the magi came from a distant land and even were of another religion.

Jesus' baptism reveals that in baptism God is adopting each person as a beloved child.

As the calling of disciples reveals, Jesus gathers unexpected people (such as fishermen and a tax collector). His community means we have brothers and sisters in Christ throughout the world!

As Jesus reveals God through his message and his acts such as healing, we see ways we called to join in his mission. His eagerness to travel to spread good news shows that mission is not only local, but everywhere we can reach.

The epiphanies show an extent of God's love that awed people. In this extraordinary time of a pandemic, we trust God's love reaching us even when we need to find new ways to gather as God's people, to worship, and to live out our discipleship.

Winter weather adds another complication in terms of worship. We do not expect anyone to stand out in bitter cold to be a parking lot greeter. So please consider a new way to celebrate Holy Communion.

Now that we are livestreaming our worship services, we can enjoy an immediacy that is lost in recordings. We can all worship together at the same time as the pastors are actually leading the service.

So, consider preparing for worship in your home, by doing more than switching on a video screen. Print out a copy of the service (posted on the Grace website). Light a candle. Set out some bread and wine (or grape juice). Pray for the presence of the Holy Spirit before the service begins.

Then participate in the service by saying the responses aloud and singing along. When the time comes for Holy Communion, trust what the Bible says about God's Word: it always is fulfilled. As the Words of Institution are spoken by the pastor over the bread and wine on the altar, God certainly can consecrate the bread and wine (or grape juice) you have prepared. Luther explained in the Small Catechism that the Words of Institution, along with eating and drinking, convey the benefits of the sacrament—and everyone who believes the words is "worthy and prepared" for it. Although we don't see each other, we will all be hearing the words and eating and drinking together as the body of Christ. We can be thinking about that.

However, if you are not comfortable communing in this way, that is fine. Communing each time it's offered is not a requirement. And we are all eager for the time when we will be able to gather again in person and commune at the altar. This way of communing at home is only for the meantime, because of the pandemic circumstances.

If you want to bake special bread for communion, the recipe in this newsletter on page 4 is one that has been used at Grace. (But this is not necessary.)

May this Epiphany season fill you with joy as we celebrate ways God was, is, and will be with us!

PAYCHECK PROTECTION PROGRAM (PPP) GRANT FINALIZED—In November Grace submitted an application to have our PPP loan of $76,900 converted to a grant. Now the grant has been awarded for all but $3,131. We could have retained that as a low interest loan but elected to pay it off immediately.

The PPP grant is a blessing to help us mitigate the financial effects of this difficult period. That, plus the continued generous giving by those still able to do so, leaves us in a strong position to serve our community both now and as we come out of the pandemic. While there is promise that we will finally see an end to the virus over the course of the following months, the scars left behind won't heal so quickly. Grace will be needed more than ever. Through the time, talents, and treasure you have all been sharing, we will, with the help of God, be there.

GRACE SEWING CIRCLE YEAR END REPORT—Grace Sewing Circle, leader Marge Birk, has been very busy creating this year. Instead of the previous twice a month meeting at church, sewing has been done in individual homes, meaning a MUCH more productive year. Different ladies have different jobs creating these projects, involving dropping items on doorsteps for the next phase in production to make the final projects, so we are working in community, even though we are apart. In addition to creating useful items to be donated both abroad and locally, there is an added benefit of keeping these ladies and a few gentlemen busy at home during this very trying year of isolation. This is a note of thanks and praise for the work of these members, and a thank you to the congregation who has been generous in sharing sheets, batting, yarn, fabric, and other items with our group. (We are always ready to accept more donations of materials.)

The total finished items donated this year of 2020 are as follows: quilts for Lutheran World Relief (260), items for local nursing homes and our own senior members of Grace, including quilted (288) and crocheted (51) lap robes, walker bags (194), small pillows (120), neck pillows (37) & poly bags (85). The storage closet continues to fill with completed items for next year, as this group just keeps producing. Praise God!

Sewing Circle Contacts: Marge Birk (815) 338-0958, Faith Watkins (815) 245-7977 or Tammy Hansing (815) 338-5387. (Marge said to say thank you to Tammy for being her co-leader and supporting this group.)

BREAD FOR THE DAY 2021—Bread for the day is a daily-use devotional resource filled with rich treasures; such as a brief scripture reading, a prayer and hymn for each day and more. The devotions begin January 1, 2021. If you are interested in having a copy of the devotional book, they will be available for purchase in the office/vestibule, for $8.00. You will need to call (815) 338-0555 and plan with the church office.

SENIOR MINISTRY—Delivered 107 Christmas Gift Bags to members over 75. Over 25 volunteers from Grace participated in this project. We hope these gifts were able to cheer our seniors during this difficult time.

2021 CONGREGATIONAL RESOURCING EVENT—You are invited to save the date & look for more information as the Northern Illinois Synod has begun to plan the 2021 Congregational Resourcing event as an online Resourcing Event, to be held on March 13, 2021. Current plans include an online gathering for worship and workshops around various ministries.

GRACE PRESCHOOL DIRECTOR—Are you creative? A self-starter? Looking to make a difference? A believer in faith-based education? Grace Lutheran Church is looking for a motivated individual to serve as Preschool Director. This position would be part-time (25 hours per week) beginning in January to help re-establish the preschool for the fall of 2021 following a hiatus in 2020. The director would work collaboratively with an established preschool board.

Grace Lutheran Church is a welcoming community of faith rooted in the gospel of Jesus Christ and dedicated to our mission of Sharing God's Grace. We achieve this mission by living out our vision of worship, outreach, ministry with the poor, spirituality, discipleship, youth and leadership.

Qualified individuals will be over 21 and possess the required State of Illinois and DCFS certifications; have excellent oral and written communication skills; a knowledge of early childhood curriculum and pedagogy; a working knowledge of finances; and a commitment to faith-based education. To apply, please submit a resume to Ikleinjan@gracewoodstock.org.
